Your guide to Northwest Arkansas

Welcome to discovernorthwestarkansas.com!

And welcome to one of the most vibrant, thriving, scenic and fun regions in the country. Every day, more and more guests are discovering what all the excitement is about in Northwest Arkansas, recently voted #4 Best Place to Live in the United States by U.S. News and World Report.

This guide is your personal round up of things to see and do, places to go and great resources to make your visit as spectacular as the region itself.

Discover world-class theater and museums, live music, shopping, sporting events, family entertainment and grown-up fun. Experience biking, hiking and parks set against a breathtaking Ozark mountain backdrop. Tour award-winning wineries and craft breweries and enjoy world-class cuisine. Take in all that the area has to offer, with activities as wide-ranging as your interests.

I've loved living here in Northwest Arkansas for more than 30 years, and have seen phenomenal changes and growth.

In addition to rich Ozarks history, friendly people and great quality of life, the opportunities for arts, culture, shopping, entertainment and recreation just keep getting better and more diverse.

Add in thriving businesses and a great economy, and you'll discover, as many of our guests do, that Northwest Arkansas is more than a fun place to visit, it's a great place to live.

Whether you visit for a week or a weekend, or decide to call it home, I know you'll love it here too.

Museums

celebrate the unique history of Northwest Arkansas

Northwest Arkansas has been growing rapidly in recent years, but the Ozarks have been inhabited for over 15,000 years. This area has a rich and bountiful history, each town with its own unique stories, and for history buffs and interested parties there are several historical museums throughout Northwest Arkansas.

Two of the most popular museums are located on Civil War battlegrounds in Pea Ridge and Prairie Grove. Both the Pea Ridge Civil War National Military Park and the Prairie Grove Civil War Battlefield State Park are two of the most well-preserved Civil War battlefields in the nation, and both offer driving tours through the parks. The Pea Ridge National Military Park features a 4,300 acre battleground and museum to house the history of the soldiers from both sides, Union and Confederate, who fought valiantly in the battle. The Prairie Grove battlefield has a museum to highlighting the history of soldiers from both sides as well, and is proud to host a reenactment of the battle during the first weekend of December during even numbered years.

For more military history, visitors can check out the Arkansas Air and Military

Tontitown Historical Museum

Museum at Drake Air Field in Fayetteville. Drake Air Field was used as a United States aviator training post during World War II, making this historical site one well worth preserving. This immense museum houses fully functional planes, tanks, and other military vehicles all the way from World War I to the Iraqi Conflicts.

For some very niche local history, check out the Bella Vista Museum, which celebrates Bella Vista's transition from a resort town and retirement village to a beautiful modern town full of natural wonders made for all ages to enjoy. This small but unique museum houses information about the 1917 resort and underground nightclub, and how over time the town became known for its beautiful seven lakes and gorgeous golf courses.

Tontitown is another small but mighty community with its own niche museum, housed in the home of original Tontitown settlers Mary and Zelinda

An exhibit at the Arkansas Air and Military Museum

Rogers Historical Museum

Bastinelli. Tontitown Historical Museum shares the local history of a unique Italian immigrant community that was founded in 1895 by Father Pietro Brandini. The foundations of the Tontitown community was wine production, which is why the museum features an antique grape press and wine bottling machine, as well as many other artifacts to help guests envision what life was like back in the days of yore.

Another niche museum is the Daisy Airgun Museum in downtown Rogers. The museum celebrates the history of one of the most popular toys of all time, featuring antique guns dating as far back as the 1600s. They also sell very limited production collector's edition products, making this an absolute must-see for gun enthusiasts.

One of the most popular museums in the area is located in Bentonville, and although it is small by comparison, its subject is a large titan of industry. The Walmart Museum was established in 1990 to showcase the history of Walmart and the Walton family's mission to help families save money and live better. Guests come from all around the world, especially during the Walmart Shareholders meeting, to see the original Walton's 5&10; where Sam Walton's dreams began.

Bentonville is also home to the Museum of Native American History, or the MONAH. Established in 2006, this museum honors the earliest inhabitants of the geographic area with six permanent exhibits, each showing a detailed history of a different age in the area's history, from the Paleo era when American history began all the way to when Native Americans began to interact with European settlers.

For those wanting a detailed history of the area as a whole, there are two excellent options. The first is the Rogers Historical Museum, which tells the history of Rogers and its surrounding areas through five permanent exhibits. This museum is unique because it is housed not just under one roof, but several spread out through downtown Rogers, one of which is an actual Frisco train car. With a fully restored Victorian home, an actual train caboose, and interactive exhibits for kids, the Rogers Historical Museum is packed with educational fun for the whole family.

Another museum encompassing regional history is the Shiloh Museum of Ozark History, established in 1968. Located in downtown Springdale, the Shiloh Museum gets its name from the 1840s pioneer town that would later become chartered as Springdale. The Shiloh Museum houses five permanent exhibits and several rotating special exhibits, and on top of the 22,000 square feet of indoor museum, there are also six historic buildings outside on the grounds for guests to visit. With the interactive exhibits and costumes for kids, guests can really get the feel of what life was like in the Ozark pioneer communities of old.

Cosmic Cavern

Onyx Cave

338 Onyx Cave Ln
Eureka Springs, AR 72632
(479) 253-9321

Onyx Cave is a small show cave near Eureka Springs, Arkansas. It has been a tourist attraction since 1893, the oldest show cave in Arkansas. The cave does not contain onyx, but rather flowstone, also known as "cave onyx".

Onyx Cave

Mystic Caverns

Mystic Caverns

341 Caverns Drive,
Harrison, AR 72601
(888) 743-1739

Mystic Cavern was originally called Mansion Cave because of the large calcite formations that fill the incredible underground chamber. One of the most spectacular calcite formations is the "Pipe Organ" standing 30 feet tall and 12 feet thick. Tours started prior to 1948 in Mystic Cavern. Crystal Dome's entrance is only 400 feet from Mystic, and was discovered in 1967 when a piece of heavy equipment broke through the surface into the void. It was first opened to the public in 1982, and this cavern features a dome nearly 70 feet tall, the fantastic "Crystal Bell", and other dripstone formations made with pure white calcite!

Bull Shoals Caverns

1011 CS Woods Blvd,
Bull Shoals, AR 72619
(870) 445-7177

Bull Shoals Caverns, created 350 million years ago during the Ordovician period, are one of the world's oldest limestone caverns. Streams flow throughout the cavern and a waterfall is located at the deepest part.

Parks

provide year-round beauty and adventure

Arkansas is famously known as the Natural State, so it should come as no surprise that Northwest Arkansas has some of the most beautiful parks in the nation tucked away amidst the Ozark Mountains. Although the weather in winter can require some bundling up, the beauty is spectacular.

For overnight stays, many of the state parks have cabin rentals available. From modern designs to rustic log and stone structures, the cabins feature kitchen amenities and cozy fireplaces to keep you warm on harsh winter evenings.

The largest of Arkansas' 52 state parks is Hobbs State Park and Conservation Area, located on the southern shores of Beaver Lake. As a conservation area, Hobbs acts as an education center for visitors, featuring interactive exhibits on the park's unique limestone landscape, natural resources and history.

From November through February, you can go on a guided eagle watch cruise on Beaver Lake. Many bald eagles return to the lake in winter, and it's a great opportunity to see these majestic birds, along with other wildlife. With thirty-six miles of hiking and biking trails spread out over 12,000 acres of park, there is plenty to see at Hobbs! Additionally, Hobbs is the only state park in Arkansas to allow regulated hunting during approved seasons.

In West Fork lies the park which solidifies Arkansas' reputation as the Natural State, Devil's Den State Park. Located about twenty minutes south of Fayetteville, Devil's Den is home to eleven different trails, seventeen cabins, and 135 campsites, all spread throughout 2,500 acres. Explore the park from an updated, historic Civilian Conservation Corps cabin. Winter wildlife watching is wonderful the trails are great for hiking and biking, and then you can return to your cozy cabin and warm up by the fire.

Smaller by comparison but in no way less mesmerizing is Withrow Springs State Park in Huntsville, which is best known for floating and canoeing. It is also the only place on earth where one can find the rare Ozark Trillium flower!

While there are gorgeous state parks to visit, each city in Northwest Arkansas is home to its own beautiful parks to patronize as well, and many have their own special niches! Rogers, for instance, has an immensely popular park specially made for mountain biking. The Railyard bike park offers biking obstacles for all levels of mountain bikers, from beginner to challenging, plus there is a bike cleaning station to wash the dirt off after catching some air.

Siloam Springs plays host to another one-of-a-kind park, the Siloam Springs Kayak Park. The man-made rapids are perfect for thrill seekers, and for those looking to relax, there's plenty of creek to float along in leisure.

For the history buffs, there are two key Civil War battlefields that have been turned into educational parks right here in Northwest Arkansas. Prairie Grove Battlefield State Park is one of the most well-preserved Civil War battlegrounds in the nation, and hosts epic reenactments of the battle the first weekend of December of every even numbered year. The Pea Ridge Battlefield, site of "the battle that saved Missouri for the Union," is now a United States National Military Park. Both Civil War battlefield parks offer guided tours and play host to an onsite museum, where guests can further interact with the rich local history.

The Natural State is so endlessly full of beauty just ready to be explored, all year round and all across Northwest Arkansas... there is plenty of outdoor fun for the whole family!

Biking & hiking

For outdoor fun and majestic natural beauty, Northwest Arkansas is a premier destination. The opportunities for bikers and hikers here are nearly endless. From the novice to the advanced, outdoor adventurers will find an extensive and carefully planned network of trails and greenway.

Northwest Arkansas is a shining example of the positive impact cycling can have on a community," said Steuart Walton, grandson of Walmart founder Sam Walton. And Bike magazine chose the region for its annual bike test because "they are building trails faster than you can ride them."

Here's a roundup of trails and hiking/biking groups:

Trails

- The Razorback Regional Greenway is a 38-mile, mostly off-road, shared-use trail from north Bentonville to south Fayetteville. The well-maintained asphalt/concrete trail weaves through scenic country landscapes, follows creeks, safely crosses city streets, and winds through
- tunnels. Trails are also in close proximity to downtown locations.
- Bella Vista is home to some of the most beautiful, undisturbed nature and sights to explore via their trail system. The Bella Vista Trail and Greenway Master Plan System will consist of more than 100 miles of trails upon completion. Bella Vista has a combination of soft and paved surfaces to suit any hiking or biking preference, completely surrounded by rocky hills, clear lakes, lush hardwood forests and amazing wildlife. Currently 40 miles of greenway trails have been completed.
- Popular Bella Vista hiking trails include Tanyard Creek Nature Trail, a 2.2-mile loop with a swinging bridge and a view of Lake Windsor waterfall, and Lake Bella Vista Trail, a paved 1.75 trail with picnic tables, a playground and a disc golf course.
- Bentonville's Crystal Bridges has lovely shaded multi-use trails with sculpture gardens and stunning scenic views.
- Lake Leatherwood Trail in Eureka Springs is a flat, mile-long trail perfect for runners and light hikers. Lake Leatherwood City Park attracts visitors every year for its spring-fed lake and marina, mountain bike and walking trails, picnic and camping areas, and the Ozark mountains.

- Fayetteville's trails are many. Centrally-located Scull Creek Trail (4.4 miles) has been called "the backbone" of the city's expanding trail system. Its paved, tree-lined surface and connectivity to other trails make it ideal for alternative-transportation commuters and recreational users alike. It also features a 650 foot-long, lighted tunnel, the state's longest pedestrian tunnel. Gulley Park is one of Fayetteville's most popular recreational sites and has undergone extensive development and improvements. The 1.5-mile Gulley Park Trail features a new, wide concrete loop, ideal for walkers, runners, strollers, and cyclists. Two new, 12-foot-wide bridges have replaced older bridges.
- The all-new Niokaska Creek Trail links the Razorback Greenway to Gulley Park. Another innovation is Old Wire Cycle Track, currently under construction, that begins at the intersection of Old Wire and Ash Street and will end in Gulley Park. The Walton Family Foundation is funding this unique track for cyclists that will protect them from cars and pedestrians, and hopefully serve as a model for the region.
- Clear Creek Trail offers 2.3 miles of peaceful creek-side scenery and links the Scull Creek and Lake Fayetteville Trails.
- Lake Fayetteville Trail has a paved, multi-use surface 5.5 miles long, and a natural trail 6.9 miles long. The trails circle Lake Fayetteville and feature a pedestrian bridge, waterfall, picnic and nature areas, playgrounds and splendid views of the lake.
- In Rogers, outdoor enthusiasts will enjoy the scenic Lake

Atalanta trails, lake and park. The Railyard is a natural surface bike park for riders of all skill levels, with a trail that leads to Lake Atalanta Park. Other notable features are 2,000 feet of boardwalk, 4 miles of hard-surface trails and 10 miles of soft-surface trails. There's also a nature area, serenity garden, pavilions and restrooms.

Hiking and Cycling Groups

- The NWA Hiking Group has over 1,500 members from Northwest Arkansas as well as Ft. Smith, Tulsa, Joplin and Springfield. For a one-time, $10 membership fee, you will be joining "a group of outdoors enthusiasts who love hiking, backpacking, bicycling, floating (sometimes paddling), and camping in the great outdoors!" as they are self-described. "We get out year round and always focus on 'leaving no trace' as we go." meetup.com/nwahiking/
- Senior hikers can join up with OLLI members for hikes and fun day trips. OLLI stands for Osher Lifelong Learning Institute in Fayetteville. You can take all kinds of classes, too. olli.uark.edu.
- Northwest Arkansas Cycling is for medium-distance riders (25-50 miles). Fitness and social experience are primary goals of this group, based in Fayetteville. meetup.com/NWACycling/
- Most members of Bella Vista Bike Club are retired, and range in age from 53 to 78. Rides are scheduled weekly on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at distances of 23 to 45 miles. Facebook.com/Bella-Vista-Bike-Club
- Ozark Mountains Trailblazers Club is a group of backpackers, hikers and trekkers whose goal is to bring the beautiful Ozark Mountains more fully into people's lives for shared experiences. hikingtheOzarks.com/trailblazers/

Eureka Springs:

The best kept secret in Northwest Arkansas

Deep in the heart of the Ozark Mountains in Northwest Arkansas lies Eureka Springs, a hidden gem of a town chock full of beautifully preserved Victorian buildings, exciting nightlife, and natural fun for the whole family. Eureka Springs is the perfect vacation destination for those seeking a good time or a quiet escape; from the many community events to the peaceful, secluded lakeside cabins, there is something for everyone to enjoy in Eureka.

One of the most famous attractions in Eureka Springs is the classic Victorian Crescent Hotel & Spa, also known as "America's Most Haunted Hotel." The grandiose hotel has garnered national attention and television exposure for its ghost tours, but it is so much more than just a spooky haunt for those seeking a scare. The gorgeously preserved hotel overlooking the quaint historical village is also the perfect venue for a memorable wedding that will stand out in the minds of friends and family alike.

Thorncrown Chapel is an architectural masterpiece made of glass and wood that looks out upon the endless rolling, wooded hills of the Ozark Mountains. This majestic edifice was designed by renowned architect E. Fay Jones to blend perfectly with its forested setting, and since opening in 1980, has won numerous awards from the American Institute of Architects.

For those who love exploring nature, or just for those who love a breathtaking view, there are three gorgeous lakes surrounding Eureka, and each packs plenty of outdoor fun for the whole family.

Thorncrown Chapel

Whether its fishing, boating, skiing, or just hiking around and enjoying the views, Table Rock, Beaver, and Leatherwood Lakes all offer exciting adventure nestled in scenic Eureka Springs. Guests can rent cabins and lakeside cottages to snuggle up in at night for a stay.

Those seeking a more underground adventure can literally find what they are searching for in one of Eureka Springs' unique caverns. Onyx Cave and Cosmic Cavern both offer exciting cave tours that are fun for all ages, where guests can explore the natural wonders of the underground world. With each cave tour, there's plenty of fun for the whole family, including panning for gems, perusing the gift shops, and checking out the natural cave wildlife.

For those seeking exciting nightlife, Eureka Springs has a great array. Eureka's downtown entertainment district has plenty of unique and eclectic bars filled to the brim with live music, good drinks, and exuberant dancing. Chelsea's, a Eureka institution of over 25 years, is proud to host live music five nights a week as "a guaranteed party and a place to dance your cares away," according to their website. From the classic local haunt The Rowdy Beaver to the swanky The Upstairs, there is a tasty libation and a lively crowd to suit every guest's needs in this tiny resort town.

For an activity the whole family can enjoy, visit Turpentine Creek Wildlife Refuge. This sanctuary for survivors of the exotic pet trade provides lifetime care for big cats and exotic animals, and is in high demand.

Zeus at Turpentine Creek

Not only can guests visit the majestic big cats who call the refuge home, but they can also stay in one of the refuge's many cottages, including the tree house bungalow, and fall asleep to the sounds of Africa nestled right in the Ozarks. This unique vacation destination is great for all ages because it is filled with fun adventures, but also educates guests in a lesson in compassion for animals.

Want to plan a visit to Eureka but aren't sure when to go? Why not pick one of the many community festivals or events happening throughout the year and visit during the one that strikes your fancy! Eureka Springs is host to music festivals, art festivals, car shows, and holiday events that blow anywhere else in the area out of the water. During the Bikes Blues & BBQ rally, Eureka is just a scenic ride away and has its own Bikes & Bluegrass festival for guests to enjoy away from all the hoopla in the main NWA event area. During Mardi Gras, Eureka is the place to be, being home to the largest Mardi Gras celebration in Northwest Arkansas. During the Christmas season, guests are warmly welcomed into the beautifully restored Victorian homes of locals during the annual Tour of Homes.

May Festival of the Arts

One event, the May Festival of the Arts, really sets Eureka Springs apart as a nationally recognized art destination. The month long festival celebrates and showcases the town's historic arts village, powered by over 350 artists. Art in all mediums is presented through one-of-a-kind exhibits and performances, from live music to culinary arts, from sculpture to oil painting, all throughout the town. The festival culminates and peaks during the White Street Walk—a wild party throughout the town thrown by artists, for artists. Guests can walk about through the homes of artists living in the village for a unique and personal art viewing experience.

Eureka Springs is easily one of the best kept secrets of Northwest Arkansas, but once this hidden gem is found, it is the most lucrative to explore. Filled with art, culture, music, dancing, and great food, all set against the gorgeous natural backdrop of the Ozark Mountains, Eureka Springs makes for the perfect vacation destination packed with fun for everyone.

Not only is Northwest Arkansas one of the most vibrant, successful, beautiful and fun regions of the country to visit, it's also one of the most highly ranked. Good economy, recreation, arts, thriving businesses, quality of life. It all adds up to an area that's ranked at or near the top of many lists by national media and other publications. Shopping

bright and beautiful!*

When it comes to retail therapy, Northwest Arkansas has plenty to offer in the downtown squares, craft fairs, antique and second-hand stores, small boutiques, large shopping malls and beyond. Visitors can shop 'til they drop in a large variety of shops, from upscale children's stores to repurposed vintage shops. The area is home to artists and craftspeople, so there are plenty of unique and handmade goods to be found as well.

From trendy local boutiques to all of the major national chains, there is something for every shopper here.

Many communities in Northwest Arkansas have preserved and renovated their downtown squares, turning once shuttered structures into enticing destinations for shopping, dining, events and more.

The squares are ideal places to stroll and spend the day because of all the activities that take place in the central downtown areas. The Bentonville and Fayetteville squares, as well as downtown Springdale, Rogers, and Siloam Springs each feature a farmer's market during the season, and host other events throughout the year. And, when you get hungry or thirsty from your shopping stroll, there are enticing options for local food and cocktails nearby.

The boutique shopping experience is much more personalized and tailored to the customer; not only do boutiques specialize in carrying what they know their customers will love, but also the staff are generally more committed to ensuring that the customer has a pleasant shopping experience. The boutique shopping experience, ideally, should make every customer feel like a VIP.

Brian Bailey, owner and manager of Fayetteville's The Mustache Goods & Wares, knows how to keep customers coming back.

"As a small locally owned store you get to bring in product you know your customers will enjoy," says Bailey. "It's a treat seeing your customers purchase things for themselves or to give to loved ones. I don't think that kind of care and passion exists in most big box stores or chains." The Mustache has been a Fayetteville institution, located directly on the downtown square, for almost a decade.

More and more these days, shoppers are seeking one-of-a-kind finds in an unlikely place: the resale store. And there is no shortage of resale, consignment, antique, flea market and thrift stores in Northwest Arkansas, filled with treasures waiting to be discovered. With upcycling and repurposing now popular design trends, shopping resale is more acceptable than ever. For consumers looking for better quality, those concerned about environmental waste, or the economy-minded, resale is the way to go.

That's not news to Kristy Danna, manager of Audrey's Resale Boutique in Bella Vista. She knows that her upscale collection of home décor and women's fashions and accessories is prime hunting ground for savvy shoppers.

For those who are looking for plenty of variety all in one place, there are two major shopping malls in Northwest Arkansas:

Northwest Arkansas Mall

4201 North Shiloh Drive
Fayetteville, AR 72703

This premiere indoor shopping center destination for Northwest Arkansas is home to 100 specialty stores, in addition to a food court, Dillard's, JCPenney and more.

Open Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. - 9 p.m.
Sunday Noon - 6 p.m.
Store hours may vary.

Pinnacle Hills Promenade

2203 Promenade Blvd.
Rogers, AR 72758

Pinnaclehillspromenade.com

More than 100 stores, along with great dining options and a Malco movie theater, in a beautiful, luxury outdoor setting. Special programs and events too!

Open Monday through Saturday
10 a.m. - 9 p.m.
Sunday Noon - 6 p.m.

That's just a sampling of shopping experiences to be discovered in Northwest Arkansas. Wherever you find yourself here, there's sure to be some retail therapy nearby.

Child's play

Visitors to Northwest Arkansas will find plenty of family-friendly opportunities to enjoy the region with youngsters. There's no end to the fun for the young and young at heart.

In addition to great parks and playgrounds, skate parks, walking and biking trails, cave exploration, boating, fishing and water sports, Northwest

Arkansas has a number of world-class museums and historical sites.

They include an amazing interactive children's museum—the Scott Family Amazeum—along with Crystal Bridges Museum of Art, The Peel Mansion, The Museum of Native American History and the Pea Ridge National Military Park. In addition, there's the Walmart Museum in downtown Bentonville with the original Five and Dime store and soda fountain.
